

I strongly support Net Neutrality!

Any effort to reduce the ability for enforcement of this traffic fairness doctrine should and must be resisted with maximum effort. We CANNOT rely on ISPs to assure fairness. Their efforts will always be to maximize profits for their management and shareholders and never to the best interest of the public!

Specifically we must insure that all traffic is passed without regard to:

1. The origin of the traffic.
2. The destination of the traffic.
3. The content of the traffic.

Only by following this doctrine can the internet be a force for good, equality and fairness!
